Academic Regalia: A Brief History

The most visible part of any commencement is the traditional cap and gown, or academic regalia. This centuries-old tradition provides a visual distinction of academic degrees and the institution granting that degree. Gowns for three levels of degrees are distinguished mainly by sleeve design. Associate and bachelor's gowns have open sleeves. Master's gowns have an oblong tail below the sleeve opening, and doctoral gowns are distinguished by three velvet bars on each sleeve and velvet trim on the gown's front.

Academic hoods are an integral part of a graduate's regalia. Colors inside the hoods identify the institution conferring the degree and usually have a black shell trimmed in velvet. The color and width of the velvet trim, or hood border, represents the graduate's academic degree or field of learning.

At New England College, academic regalia is worn annually at Convocation, Founders Day, and Commencement—the three celebratory milestones of our academic year. Caps, gowns, and academic costume have been worn since the Middle Ages in Europe and Colonial times in America, and we are proud to continue the tradition.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Venkatrama Reddy.Induru, longtime strategic partner for New England College's international programs
Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa

Venkatrama Reddy.Induru is Managing Partner of Venkat & McGribbin, an international student consulting firm that he has operated for 20 years. He has advised thousands of students to attend universities in the United States, United Kingdom, and Australia. Since 2015, he has worked exclusively with New England College in recruiting students to attend our on-campus Master of Science in Computer Information Systems programs, and in 2018, he assisted in the development of and recruitment for our executive masters' degree programs. As a result of Venkat's efforts, thousands of Indian students have had the opportunity to earn their master's degrees at New England College. Also as a result of Venkat's efforts, New England College has had the privilege of hosting students eager to share their rich cultural and intellectual diversity.

Venkat earned a Bachelor of Science in Law from the University of Poona, India, and has been a member of the Bar Council of the State of Telangana since 1991. In 2022, he became a Life Member of the Telangana High Court Advocates' Association. He earned a Master of Business Administration (Marketing from the School of Finance and Management at the University of Lincolnshire and Humberside, in the United Kingdom.

Venkat resides with his wife and daughter in Hyderabad, India.

Honorary Degree Recipient and Commencement Speaker

Ron Chernow, journalist, biographer, and thought leader
Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa

An honors graduate of Yale and Cambridge, Ron Chernow is one of the most distinguished commentators on history, politics, and business in America today. He has won virtually every major prize in American letters. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch has hailed him as "one of the pre-eminent biographers of his generation" while Fortune magazine has called him "America's best business biographer." The Chicago Tribune said that Mr. Chernow was possibly the nation's "most influential" historian and "may be the most popular." The Washington Post cited him as one of the "five most important public intellectuals in America today." In September 2017, President Obama conferred upon him a National Humanities Medal at the White House, and Chernow was honored the same week by the National Archives in Washington.

Starting in 2008, Mr. Chernow began working with Lin-Manuel Miranda as the historical consultant on the sensational Broadway musical Hamilton, inspired by his biography of Alexander Hamilton and considered the biggest Broadway hit of the past 50 years. In November 2015, Mr. Chernow and Mr. Miranda jointly received the History Makers Award of the New-York Historical Society for their work on the acclaimed show. That same month, Mr. Chernow's biography of Alexander Hamilton returned to The New York Times bestseller list, where it stayed for more than a year.

In October 2017, the Penguin Press published Mr. Chernow's seventh book, Grant, to universal praise. Writing in The New York Times Book Review, President Bill Clinton said, "This is a good time for Ron Chernow's fine biography of Ulysses S. Grant to appear." In The New York Times, Janet Maslin observed: "Books of its caliber by writers of Chernow's stature are rare, and this one qualifies as a major event." In the Atlantic, Ta-Henisi Coates called the biography "Another classic in the Ron Chernow oeuvre," while George Will observed in The Washington Post that "Chernow's Grant is a gift to a nation much in need of measured judgments about its past."

On three occasions, Mr. Chernow has been a clue in The New York Times crossword puzzle, and he was once even a clue on Jeopardy. He is a longtime resident of Brooklyn, New York, and is currently writing a biography about Mark Twain.
